Kiki animal crossing

It's easy to forget that Animal Crossing: New Horizons has an abundance of characters. There's a big focus on about 30 characters, a number that are both the most searched and least wanted characters that players around the world are looking for. Overall, the game contains just shy of 400 villagers who can come live on a players' island. Although most of the popular and despised characters are subjective, there's a little consensus on which villager is best and what's worst. There are also about eight different personality types for each villager. It takes care of numerous combinations of animals, personalities, appearance and personal enjoyment of each character. We've compiled a list of the upper and lower-end characters that players seek, as well as what personality your villagers may have (do a quick quest for your villager to find what category they're falling under). This will help create a diverse island with different attitudes to help you keep going throughout your daily Animal Crossing rituals! Villagers guide at a glance
Most wanted villagers
There are some characters that players are collectively looking for. It seems everyone wants these villagers on their island, maybe because of their personality or maybe because they're cute. Either way, there are different reasons for players who want these characters more than any other.
IGN Raymond Bar none, Raymond is the most prestigious character. There are even players out there who are paying real money to get their hands on this beautiful cat. So many people are willing to pay for Raymond that there's even a theory that he broke the Animal Crossing Black Market, with Island Representatives paying as many as 1 million bells or 400 Nook Miles Tickets just to have this cat who lives with them. This beautiful cat is a little full of himself and knows that everyone wants him to live on their island. This stylish grey and white cat has two different colored eyes, making him pretty unique to the game. His popularity can stem from his beautiful nature, or perhaps even the rarity of his character. The Smug personality type was first introduced in Animal Crossing: New Leaf, so for him to interesting looks as well as a rare personality can contribute to players desire for host him.
IGN Merengue
Merengue's first appearance was in Animal Crossing: New Leaf, and she took the Animal Crossing world by storm. This beautiful rhino has the appearance of a strawberry shortcake, with a horn resembled a strawberry, white mane, and pink body. Players from New Leaf recall her bright personality and sweet, peppery mindset. Many characters are sought after because of their relationship with players in previous games. I have a certain soft spot for Punchy and am looking high and low for a way to get my hands on him. The same can be said for Merengue. Her optimism, beautiful design, and overall cute aesthetic makes her a heavy heavy for character. If you're lucky enough to have her on your island, make sure you keep her! And if you're trying to find her, there's always Nookazon. Currently, her sale price on Nookazon is 1 million bells or 20 Nook Miles Tickets.
IGN Judy Full of sparkle and sunshine, Judy brings out the best of every island and she gives Raymond a run for his money in popularity. Judy is a beautiful cub character with pink, light blue, and violet fur. Her eyes are blue with big, white sparkle, adding to her beautiful nature. Judy is a snooty little thing who loves to gossip about neighbors. When you first meet Judy, you can be put off a little by her personality. She may come off as arrogant and rude when you first meet, but over time, will relax and start accepting you as a friend. This trait is one of the biggest draws to her personality. Her price on Nookazon comes out to either 1 million bells or 450 Nook Miles Tickets. Although Raymond might be at the top of the most wanted list now, Judy gives him a run for his money. Most despous villagers
Just as there are beloved villagers, there are also villagers who hate everyone. These villagers are part of the reason players are looking for ways to kick villagers off their islands. Whether the reasons are that the animals seem to have their personality, humans want these animals to have gone the most.
IGN Tammi Bar none, Tammi is my personal least favorite. She moved on my island when I started and was unsettled with her color combination. Her bright purple and yellow t-shirt collided terribly with her yellow fur and bright red/orange eyes. My friends often described her as nightmarish fuel because, when she saw her from behind, everyone always thought she was cute. But once she turned around, it was just scary. This look is alongside a peppery personality, making her terrifying to look at and always in your face. She wanted to cheer you on, which is phenomenal, but it was also terrifying all at once. It always felt like she was tearing you apart with her eyes as she told you that you were doing your best.
IGN Violet
One of the Shortcomings of Animal Crossing: New Horizons is the design of the monkey characters. Although most issues can be overlooked, Violet is one that cannot be ignored. Her personality is Snooty, which makes her difficult to relate to us when we first meet her. Violet seems to give the impression of thinking she's better than everyone else. The problem is, if you look at her, she's not particularly cute. A lot of gorillas in the game have some pretty big design issues. From showing their butt all the time to not being the cutest, gorilla characters seem to be the least sought after. Violet makes it to the bottom because her purple fur along with a bright green shirt makes for a character who's just hard to look at.
IGN Limberg
Although the creators saw the opportunity for a pun it took, it looks like Limberg isn't a beloved character. The yellow mouse finds itself versus opposed to bottom of the wanted character list because of, well, his look. Limberg looks like the type of person parents will give you advice to stay away. His beady eyes, un shaved looks, and overall greasy feeling make him a character who most players find hard to love. It doesn't help that Limberg also has the Cranky personality type. If you're not turned off by his looks when you first meet Limberg, you'll definitely be turned off by his personality. He is indifferent and insensitive to you, making it difficult to want to invite him to live on your island.
Villager personality types
Although there are a lot of most wanted and the least wanted villagers, each is reliance on what you as the player think of them. All physical qualities of the villagers come down to whether you personally like the way they look. However, to have a rounded island, it is important that you bring together different personality types to your island. There are eight categories of personalities in Animal Crossing: New Horizons. Each personality type will bring a different level of understanding and perspective of your island. They'll also have different jokes, different furniture, and different DIYs for you to collect, so it's important to have a diverse island. The personality types are divided by gender.
While Cranky, Smug, Jock and Lui are personalities given to male characters, Normal, Peppy, Sisterly (or Uchi) and Snooty personalities are assigned to female characters. These personalities play a key role in how your characters will communicate with you and each other.
Cranky
These cranky villagers have deeper voices, droopy faces, and overall don't seem pleased with anything when you first meet them. However, the more you communicate with insane villagers, the more open and welcome them towards you and your ideas. Sometimes it's hard to get to know these characters, but once you earn their trust, their relationship becomes worth it. Cranky villagers love to gossip about other villagers and will sometimes sip out hard truths about the characters around them. my cranky boys &t;3

Cranky villagers don't often make the top lists of most wanted characters. Their personalities and smallness may come over to players poorl, but that doesn't mean they didn't want to. Personally, Cranky villagers are my favorite. Although there's a lot of work in acquiring their friendship, it's ultimately rewarding when these tough characters are all of a sudden wanting to tell you about their out-of-touch perspectives, which can be funny. Cranky characters work well with Normal or Lazy villagers, but will be offended if the Normal character says the wrong thing. However, Cranky villagers clash straight with Sister characters because both personalities are stubborn and opinionated. There are a total of 55 characters with cranky personality. Characters like Apollo, Dobie, Dobie, and Fang manages to break the top 100 list just because we can collectively agree that they're cute. But there are so many more Cranky villagers to watch for. Cranky villagers include: Admiral, Agnus, Apollo, Avery, Boris, Boyd, Bruce, Butch, Buzz, Camofrog, Cesar, Head, Chow, Croque, Curt, Cyd, Cyrano, Del, Dobie, Elvis, Fang, Frank, Gaston, Gonzo, Grizzly, Gruff, Humphrey, Harry, Hopper, Ike, Kabuki, Knox, Limberg, Lobo, Monty, Murphy, Octavian, Peewee, Rasher, Ricky, Rizzo, Rocco, Rolf, Rooney, Roscoe, Spike, Static, Tom, T-Bone, Jock
There are only 55 jock villagers in the entire game, bringing tremendous energy to you
However, these characters will also come off as a little full of themselves. They are often lifting weights, talking about sports, and worrying about their physical appearance. They tend to focus on themselves and don't really talk about the other villagers on the island, making them a little more agreeable than the Cranky personality types.
Jock island #AnimalCrossing #ACNH #NintendoSwitch pic.twitter.com/pW1OgRbYTR — Nox Rotlich (@Nox_Rotlich) May 15, 2020
These characters function as a kind of big brother on the island, letting other villagers come to them for advice and help. Jocks will also give you advice and try to get closer to you as a friend, which is a nice change of pace from the Cranky villagers. This personality type is one of the most common personality types in the series, updated since the very first Animal Crossing game.
Jock personality types get along well with characters who are peppery, matching their hyper personalities and energy levels. Jock characters also get along well with Normal characters. However, these personality types can conflict with villagers who are Lazy or Snooty personalities.
Lazy characters don't understand the Jock's energy, and Snooty villagers can be offended outright when the Jock asks the Snooty villager about their finess. Because of their personality and commonality, Jock personalities are well sought after. Some of the more popular Jock characters are Dom, Jay, Bill, and Kid Cat, but there's plenty to choose from.
Jock villagers include: Antonio, Axel, Bam, Biff, Bill (Duck), Billy (Goat), Boone, Boots, Buck, Bud, Coach, Cobb, Cousteau, Curly, Dom, Drift, Flip, Frobert, Genji, Goose, Hamlet, Iggly, Jay, Jitters, Mac, Mott, Kevin, Kid Cat, Kody, Louie, Lyman, Moose, Peck, Pierce, Poncho, Ribbot, Roald, Rod, Rory, Rowan, Rudy, Samson, Scoot, Sheldon, Sterling, Stinky, Sparro, Sprocket, Sly, Snake, Tad, Tank, Ted
Lui
Lui lazy personality types are some of the more These characters' interests include food and sitting around. These characters are easiest for you to come together with and befriend because they're laid back and more relaxed than some of the other personality types in the game. What's more, they're more confident in themselves and their laid-back lifestyle.
My Lazy to be lazy boys. #AnimalCrossing #ACNH #NintendoSwitch pic.twitter.com/Fwryu0mKBV — Romy Gutierrez (@keyasirena) May 15, 2020
Lazy characters make up about 60 characters in the game, which outsets Cranky and Jock personality types in availability. These characters are easy to identify because they'll mention seeing you in a dream or telling you a story that's definitely made up. These villagers will get along best with other Lazy characters as well as Peppy and Normal villagers.
Jock characters tend to annoy the lazy characters because of their high energy and constant need to do things. Lazy characters don't need it. Because of their bounty, Lazy Characters make up a good number of most searched for villagers. Characters like Punchy, Lucky, Zucker and Sherb make up some of the most popular Lazy Villagers that players want. But since this is a very common personality type, there are other Lazy animals you can look for.
Lazy villagers include: Al, Alfonso, Anchovy, Barold, Beau, Benedict, Benjamin, Big Top, Biskit, Bob, Legs, Boomer, Broccolo, Chester, Claude, Clay, Clyde, Cloe, Cranston, Cube, Deli, Derwin, Dizzy, Doc, Drago, Drake, Erik, Egbert, Elmer, Hopkins, Hugh, Jacob, Jeremiah, Joey, Lucky, Marcel, Moe, Nate, Ozzie, Paolo, Papi, Prince, Puck, Pudge, Punchy, Raddle, Rex, Rodeo, Sherb, Simon, Spork, Stitches, Stu, Tucker, Wade, Walker, Smug
The Latest Personality Trait
Because of its novelty, players are looking high and low for characters who are a little more full of themselves than others. These personality types will come off as polite, friendly and gentlemanly, but also a little awe. The funniest part of this character is how often they are willing to flirt with you. It may be off-putting to flirt an animal with you, but it's also definitely worth the joke.
My smug boys love each other pt 1
#AnimalCrossing #ACNH #NintendoSwitch pic.twitter.com/6YQ0JCBNg2 — Sloane // GIVEAWAY PINNED (@cynnfulsloane) May 14, 2020
These personality types get good along with Peppy, Normal, Lazy, and other Smug characters, making their interactions a little more fun. However, these villagers will clash with Sister, Jock and Cranky characters. The Sisterly characters really hate the Smug personality trait because of how Smuggling characters will flirt with them. These personality types make up only 35 characters, making them one of the rarest personalities to find. Marshall, Raymond and Julian are some of the characters with this personality type that players are looking for. Smuggling villagers include: Beardo, Chadder, Chops, Colton, Curlos, Ed, Eugene, Graham, Hans, Henry, Hippeux, Huck, Jacques, Julian, Keaton, Ken, Kidd, Klaus, Kyle, Leopold, Lionel, Lopez, Lucha, Marshal, O'Hare, Olaf, Pietro, Phil, Quilson, Raymond, Rodney, Shep, Tex
These are female characters who are sweet to you and the other villagers of the island. These characters are a little obsessed with ninthness and hygiene, but don't really show any concern about their physical appearance. Normal personality types can also be a little difficult to listen to as they are more self-destructive and have lower self-worth than other characters. It can be seen in how they'll be more likely to talk about other villagers rather than themselves. These villagers will get along most easily with Smuggling, Lazy and other Normal villagers on the island. They can even occasionally get along with the tough Snooty personalities who are on your island, although they can both get miffed after a conversation together. However, these villagers would disagree with Cranky villagers because the Normal character will be put off by the Cranky villager's rude, arrogant and in generally acid nature. Since there are 59 characters with this personality type, Normal characters are easy to find and are generally pretty cute. They also make up a good portion of the most wanted villagers list, including characters like Flurry, Chevre, Coco, and Lolly.
Normal villagers include: Alice, Annalisa (Anteater), Aurora, Ava, Bea, Bertha, Bettina, Cally, Caroline, Carrie, Celia, Chevre, Coco, Daisy, Deena, Dora, Ellie, Eunice, Fauna, Flurry, Gala, Gayle, Gladys, Goldie, Jambette, June, Kiki, Kitt, Lily, Lolly, Luc Maggie, Maple, Margie, Marcie, Marina, Megan, Melba, Merengue, Midge, Mitzi, Molly, Nan, Nana, Norma, Olive, Peaches, Pecoe, Poppy, Rhonda, Sally, Sandy, Savannah, Skye, Stella, Sydney, Sylvia, Tia, and Vesta
Peppy
Peppy Peppy characters are excessively friendly and excited, making them one of the easiest female personality types to come together with. Although they can be a little annoying because they quickly apologize for anything they do regret, even if they've done nothing wrong, these characters are heartbreaking and kind to have on any island. I love peppery convos

These characters will often contribute their energy levels to eating too much tasty, and constantly cheering you on. This makes them one of the easiest personalities to come together with Smuggling, Normal, Lazy, Sisters, and Jock characters. Although they will talk to everyone on the island, Peppy characters tend to have a difficult relationship with Snooty and Cranky characters because of their negative attitude. Some of the more popular Peppy characters are Audie, Cookie, Merry, and Rosie. But there are about 50 Peppy personalities for you to choose from.
Peppy villagers include: Agent S, Anabelle, Anicotti, Apple, Audie, Bangle, Bella, Bianca, Bluebear, Bonbon, Bubbles, Bunnie, Candi, Cheri, Chrissy, Koekie, Dotty, Gabi, Flora, Felicity, Freckles, Ketchup, Maddie, Geseënde, Nibbles, Pango, Pate Pate Pompom, Puddings, Rosie, Ruby, Sprinkle, Tabby, Tangy, Truffles, Tammi, Twiggy, Tutu, Victoria, Wendy and Winnie.
Sisterly (uchi)
Much like the Smug personality type, the Sister (or Uchi) personality is one of the newer personalities shown in the series. The introduction of the Sister personality came with New Leaf, and New Horizons added some new characters to this list. Because it's a newer personality type and there are only 24 of these personalities in play right now, players from New Horizons will actually start with a Sisterly character on their islands.
My sisterly girls with an interesting conversation...#AnimalCrossing #ACNH #NintendoSwitch pic.twitter.com/26KUdKl485 — Cat (STAY HOME GDI) (@KaMotif) May 8, 2020
This personality type is very caring about the player. Though they're blunt and simple, this personality type is nowhere near as vain as Snooty or Peppy villagers. Once you've managed to establish a relationship with a sister character, they'll start giving you tips on ways to relax and fight. These characters will often offer to fight someone who gives you trouble, giving you medicine when you're stung by bees, and generally showing protective and caring tendencies toward you. These characters get along well with Peppy, Smug, Lazy, Jock, and other Sisters personalities. However, because of their difficult nature, Sisterly characters will often clash with Cranky or Snooty villagers. Some of the most popular Sisterly characters consist of Muffy, Cherry, and Pashmina. Hopefully you'll remember which Sisters character you started with!
Sisterly villagers include: Agnes, Canberra, Charlise, Cherry, Dierdre, Diva, Flo, Frita, Fuchsia, Hazel, Katt, Mira, Muffy, Pashmina, Paula, Plucky, Phoebe, Reneigh, Renee, Rocket, Sylvia, Tammy and Ursula.
Snooty
Snooty villagers will often be proud or dismissive towards you when you first meet, but don't let it put you off! These mature, level-headed characters may come off as self-centered, but once you get to know them, they often open up and offer players fashion advice, makeup tips, and their kindness in the way only Snooty characters can. Vivian is a great snooty!!
#AnimalCrossing #ACNH #NintendoSwitch pic.twitter.com/8mNQe9r1fX — Philia (@Philiaravon) May 18, 2020
These villagers often appear with makeup and high-mode clothing in an effort to show themselves as better than other characters. Honestly, this is one of the main reasons these personalities don't actually get along with other characters. Much like the male counterpart, Cranky personalities, Snooty characters don't get along with most of the other personality types. In fact, these characters may only get along with Peppy and Normal villagers, but even that has its limits. Although Peppy and Normal personalities can admire the Snooty villagers, they can easily be offended by some of the and personality mortality of the Snooty villagers. Although these characters characters be difficult, there are quite a few of them that players really want to nab up. Ankha, Eloise, Freya and Judy are some Snooty personalities that players like on their islands. And with about 55 of these characters to choose from, there's bound to be one Snooty personality that's a match for your island.
Snooty villagers include: Alli, Amelia, Ankha, Annalise (Horse), Astrid, Baabara, Becky, Bitty, Blaire, Blanche, Bree, Broffina, Cashmere, Claudia, Cleo, Diana, Eloise, Ellie, Francine, Freya, Friga, Gloria, Gigi, Greta, Gwen, Judy, Julia, Kitty, Mathilda, Maella, Mallary, Mint, Miranda, Monique, Naomi, Olivia, Opal, Panchetti, Portia, Pecan, Soleil, Snooty, Purl, Queenie, Robin, Tipper, Tiffany, Timbra, Tasha, Vivian, Violet, Velma, Whit
